01 ORTHOPEDIC SIGNAL 85

ESWT offers short-term pain relief for chronic low back pain.

Why this matters:* A systematic review found radial extracorporeal shockwave therapy reduced pain but not functional disability in chronic low back pain.*

Disability and rehabilitation

ALSO TODAY

02 NEURO Disability and rehabilitation

01 ORTHO Journal of Rehabilitation Medicine

01 ORTHO medRxiv

05 GERIATRIC BMC Geriatrics

Meeting exercise guidelines improves processing speed and memory in MS.

Why this matters*: A systematic review found that meeting physical activity guidelines for people with MS significantly improved processing speed and visuospatial and verbal memory.*

SIGNAL 85

Disability and rehabilitation

Aquatic plyometrics better than land exercises for adolescent knee pain.

Why this matters:* An RCT showed aquatic plyometric exercises improved pain, strength, function, and quality of life in adolescents with patellofemoral pain syndrome.*

SIGNAL 80

Journal of Rehabilitation Medicine

Wearable ultrasound detects subtle knee neuromuscular coordination deficits.

Why this matters:* A feasibility study found wearable ultrasound identified neuromuscular coordination differences after knee injury not seen with force plates.*

SIGNAL 75

medRxiv

01

Balance confidence in older women links to activity and function.

Why this matters:* A study found low balance confidence in older women correlated with more sitting and less function, while higher confidence linked to activity and better function.*

SIGNAL 75

BMC Geriatrics